Course Expectations:

I have planned a fairly aggressive schedule and set of expectations for you this semester because this is your third and final semester of legal research and writing. I firmly believe that the hallmark of effective representation of clients is the ability to perform sound legal research and write persuasive, eloquent documents. Throughout this course, we will focus heavily on reiterating basic legal research concepts, as well as introducing many advanced legal research techniques. Our other primary focus will be fine-tuning the legal writing skills that you have developed so far, especially as it relates to persuasive brief writing.

I encourage your feedback throughout the semester. Please do not hesitate to call or email if you should need any assistance whatsoever. I am always available to you.

HUSL Policies on attendance, lateness and preparation

The program of instruction at the School of Law is based on an active and informed exchange between instructor and student and between student and student. Regular, prepared class attendance helps develop skills essential to the competent practice of law. A student who violates the attendance policy, including the instructor's specification of class expectation described below, may lose his or her right to take the exam in the course, to receive course credit or may receive other penalties described below and in Academic Rule 108. Persistent or frequent lateness or unpreparedness may also be the basis for reduction of the grade awarded in a course. See Academic Rule 108 for further details.

Attendance Policies in this Course

You are required to attend all classes and to participate in class discussions and exercises. Penalties for missed classes are as follows:

- 1st missed class: No points deducted
- 2nd missed class: 5 points deducted from the semester total
- 3rd missed class: 8 points deducted from the semester total
- 4th missed class: 11 points and your name may be sent to the Dean's office with a recommendation that you be withdrawn from the course.

For the purposes of this rule, each class missed is considered one class, regardless of the length of the class. There are no excused absences.

Punctuality/Preparation Policies in this Course

Please be respectful to me and your fellow classmates by being on time to each class meeting.

Policy on Laptop Use in Class:

Use of a laptop and a wireless connection will be required in every class as we will use technology and online legal research systems throughout the duration of the course. However, I will not tolerate the use of the laptop to surf the web or do any other activities not related to our class discussion. If I come to know that you are using the laptop inappropriately, I reserve the right to deduct up to 10 points from your semester point total.

Other Classroom Policies:

We will use our TWEN site almost exclusively for the distribution of class materials and other communications. I also frequently use the Discussion and Live Discussion tools on the site. You are charged with the responsibility of reading the contents of every posting on TWEN.

The official Pass/Fail policy for “Good Faith Pass/Fail” basis is:

- 1) A reasonable, good faith effort must be shown in order to receive a "Pass".
- 2) You must actually submit an assignment on time to receive a "Pass". Failure to submit an assignment on time will result in a "Fail". However, you must still submit the assignment.
- 3) If you fail to ever submit a Pass/Fail assignment, your overall semester point total will be deducted by 5 points for each missed Pass/Fail assignment.
- 4) If you receive a "Fail" on an assignment due to lack of effort or late submission, this will be taken into account on your class participation. Per the syllabus, I reserve the right to increase or decrease your overall semester point total by 5 points based on your class participation and preparedness.

Pass/Fail assignments are created with 'you' in mind - they are a tool that I use to help make sure you are on the right track before a large, point-worthy assignment is due. Please take them seriously and submit a reasonable, good faith effort.

General Overview of Assignments

Research Guide Project and Presentation

Students will explore the myriad of legal research resources, and will create and present a report based on their work.

Research Journal for the Brief

Prior to your submission of the brief, you will submit a research journal that should illustrate the roadmap of your argument and will include legal research to support your arguments. These journals are not “outlines” in the truest sense of the word – they should include all issues, all rule synthesis, all analysis and all conclusions that the student plans to include in the final draft of the brief.

Brief

Your writing assignment will be a Persuasive Brief. This assignment will require you to use research, analysis, and writing skills to persuade a court to adopt your client’s position on two or more issues of law. The Persuasive Brief assignment will be based on a mock case record from which you must extract the relevant facts and legal issues.

Oral Argument

All students will participate in an Oral Argument exercise, which will be based on the brief problem. For the Oral Argument, you will represent the same party you represented in the brief. You will have a co-counsel for this exercise. Two other students will represent the opposing party.

Format of Writing Assignments

All writing assignments must meet the format requirements below (unless I instruct you otherwise):

- FONT: Times New Roman, twelve point
- MARGINS: Each typed page must have one-inch margins on top, bottom, and both sides.
- TYPE: Fully double-spaced, except that block quotations are single-spaced and indented from the left and right margin.
- CITATIONS: In accordance with the Bluebook Citation Manual.
- PAGE LIMITS: Each assignment will have a page limit. Some pages of each assignment will not count towards the page limit. Please follow individual assignment instructions carefully to avoid point deductions.
- PAGINATION: Each page of text must be numbered.
