The Hamline law community is a vibrant network of students connected with scholars and practitioners, empowering and preparing each Hamline law graduate to pursue an independent path to success in a broad range of professions. There is no “one way” to be a Hamline lawyer. Beyond skilled advocates in traditional legal practice, the Hamline network includes entrepreneurs, managers and advisors in business enterprises, government officials and leaders of non-profit organizations.

Three centers of excellence — committed to innovation and preeminence in teaching and scholarship in burgeoning practice sectors — attract strong students nationally and enhance professional opportunities upon graduation.

The Hamline law diploma is a symbol of readiness to apply critical thinking, practice skills and public service values in a variety of career settings, allowing you to be the kind of lawyer you want to be.

HAMLINE UNIVERSITY
School of Law

Be the kind of lawyer you want to be.
Faculty
Expert professors challenge students to learn the law and understand its impact on both individual clients and society. Our faculty members conduct cutting-edge scholarship in exciting areas of modern legal practice, and they are equally passionate about helping students learn to make their own mark in the legal world.

Student-to-faculty ratio: 15:1
Full-time faculty: 46 (50% women, 17% minority)

Curriculum
Students may choose between full-time weekday and part-time weekend programs. Hamline has charted a pathway to distinction with two outstanding Centers of Excellence. Our Dispute Resolution Institute is ranked second in the nation among programs of its kind. The Health Law Institute, established in 2006, is already ranked within the top twenty programs nationwide. Our newly launched Business Law Institute provides a platform for coordinating and bolstering the law school’s already solid core of corporate and commercial law offerings.

Hamline recently reconfigured the first-year curriculum in an innovative way. Practice, Problem-Solving and Professionalism (P3), our new, required 1L course, was designed to provide students with the context of legal practice and to frame lawyering as a broad profession grounded in problem-solving and dispute resolution. Students are also required to take International Law as a required first year course.

Our extensive curricular offerings include 12 FOCUS AREAS:

- Alternative Dispute Resolution
- Business & Commercial Law
- Child Advocacy
- Criminal Law
- Gov’t. & Regulatory Affairs
- Health Law
- Intellectual Property
- International Law
- Labor and Employment Law
- Litigation & Trial Practice
- Property Law
- Public Law & Human Rights

Outcomes
Hamline is committed to providing students with the resources and support they need to succeed. Our Career Services Office assists students with their employment needs by providing extensive resources, which include interview coaching, resume services, networking/interview opportunities, and post-graduation support.
